DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 23 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 23, the word "silicon" as an isolating layer is found to be confusing. It is unclear as to how can silicon, an inorganic material be an isolating or removable layer.

Claim 25, the word "colorful" is found to be vague and confusing. It is not clear as to what is defined by said word.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 21-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shepherd (3043732) in view of Yang (6280553).

Shepherd relates to a transfer sticker ((figure-1) comprising a substrate (1), a first isolating layer (2) on the substrate, a transferable label (3) detachably located on the isolating layer, a surprint layer (4) on the label resin layer, and another adhesive layer overlies that ink and the label layer. The isolating layer (2) can be wax. The surprint layer includes ink such as powder meat ink (col. 2, lines 40-41). However, shepherd fails to teach the presence of another resin layer between the ink and the another adhesive layer. Yang discloses a hologram ornamental sticker including a releaseable paper base (10) , an adhesive (12) on the release layer (11), a base plate layer (13) on the adhesive, a hologram layer (14) of foil material on the base plate, a resin layer (16) on the hologram layer for protection, an another adhesive layer (17) on the resin protective layer. Yang teaches the advantage of using a resin protective layer over the pattern foil layer to protect the pattern. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to utilize Yang's teaching of using a resin layer over the ink pattern in the invention of Shepherd with the motivation to provide protection to the pattern when transferred to a surface.

Regarding the presence of multiple protective resin layers over the ink patter, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Yang by providing multi-layered protective resin for enhanced protection, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.
